Rasheea was born into a life of poverty and violence. Her parents were both drug addicts, and she was often left to fend for herself. As a child, she was sexually abused by a family friend. This trauma led to years of self-destructive behavior.

By the time she was a teenager, Rasheea was homeless and addicted to drugs. She spent her days on the streets, begging for money and sleeping in abandoned buildings. But even in her darkest moments, Rasheea never lost hope.

One day, Rasheea met a woman who offered her help. This woman took Rasheea to a rehab center, where she began her journey to recovery. With the support of her newfound friends and mentors, Rasheea was able to overcome her addiction and rebuild her life.

Finding Hope and Purpose

After getting sober, Rasheea dedicated her life to helping others. She became a certified addiction counselor and began working with people who were struggling with the same challenges she had faced.
